

Decoration for a high-rank monk's clothes

Mongolian Collection

Accession Nr.: 83.141.1

Type: textile; religious or cult object; costumes

Date of production: ca 1900

Place of production: Mongolia

Materials: silk brocade

Dimensions: 50 cm

Elongated, trapezoidal dress or headdress ornament. In the middle, on a golden base tendrils and leaves pattern, on silk decorated with red tendrils and leaves, embossed, appliquéd Buddhist symbols of the five offering of sensory enjoyment: the mirror, musical instrument, perfume or incense, fruit or food, silk cloth. Around it, in a row, is a convexly embroidered gemstone pattern, and it is framed by two silk strips with different patterns on a silver base. At the bottom there is a fringe of many colored silk threads. The lining is blue silk.

Accessories for the ceremonial shoulder shroud inventory number HFM_84.139 and the apron number HFM_84.140 .

