exhibition material of Koltai Gallery, 8.5x17 cm, new enlargement from the original stereo glass diapositive variant: D.4511. Constantinople (İstanbul), Üsküdar district. The origins of the open turbeh are uncertain; some believe it was built for Karaca Ahmet Sultan, the son of a Turkmen nobleman, and his horse, others think it is the resting place of Hamza Pasha, who lived in the second half of the sixteenth century.
