

Mouth organ with lined, silk cover and long lacquer box, with a green cord ring and tassels on each side

Japanese Collection

|                      |                                                                                                           |
|----------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Accession Nr.:       | 50.349.1-5               |
| Type:                | object for daily use; musical instruments; lacquers                                                       |
| Date of production:  | early 19th centuryEdo (Tokugawa) period                                                               |
| Place of production: | Japan                                                                                                     |
| Materials:           | bamboo; lacquer; maki-e; silver; textile; wood                                                            |
| Dimensions:          | organ:height 49.5 cmdiameter 6 cmbox:height 9.5 cmwidth 16.5 cmlength 58.5 cm |

Shō (mouth organ made of bamboo) decorated with bugaku scene. Decorated with gold Tokugawa crests (mon) on the textile and lacquer box. Unsigned.

