

Snuff bottle decorated with the figures of a man sitting on a mule and his servant carrying a blossoming bough

Chinese Collection

Accession Nr.:	1164.1-2
Type:	object for daily use; snuff bottle; pottery
Date of production:	1821–1850 Qing dynasty
Place of production:	Jiangxi province, China
Marks:	On the base, there is a four-character, seal-script mark written in iron-red: Daoguang nianzhi "Made in the Daoguang reign" (during the Qing dynasty; 1821–1850).
Materials:	porcelain
Techniques:	overglaze decoration
Dimensions:	height: 6.4 cm diameter (base): 2.4 cm
Acquisition:	collection of Ferenc Hopp

The flat, roundish body has a short cylindrical neck and rests on a low, oval base. Its side is decorated with a landscape: blossoming trees, a stream, a bridge, plants and two buildings in the distance.

