

Netsuke (button fastener on the cords of an inrō box): Rabbit sitting on an oval base

Japanese Collection

|                      |                                                                                        |
|----------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Accession Nr.:       | 4352  |
| Type:                | object for daily use; statuette; ivory carving                                         |
| Date of production:  | early 19th century – mid-19th centuryEdo (Tokugawa) period                         |
| Place of production: | Japan                                                                                  |
| Signed:              | Hishikawa Nobuhide                                                                     |
| Materials:           | ivory                                                                                  |
| Dimensions:          | height: 3.4cm                                                                          |
| Acquisition:         | collected by Péter Vay                                                                 |

